

WEBSITE PRIVACY STATEMENT

Aquinas College and its service providers value the privacy of every individual's personal information. You can access our website home page and browse our site without disclosing personal information. Aquinas College will only record an individual's e-mail address and/or contact details if you send our site a message and/or agree to disclose this information.

The information an individual provides is collected for the purposes of responding to the matters raised in an individual's electronic correspondence. In these instances we will only collect personal information that is necessary to perform these functions. We will only use personal information provided for the purposes for which it was collected.

It is important to note that this site does not provide facilities for the secure transmission of information across the Internet. Users should be aware that there are inherent risks in transmitting information across the Internet.

Collection and use of site visit data

Cookies are used on our site, but they do not collect any personal information. Aquinas College's web-server automatically collects the following non-personal information via Google Analytics for statistical and system administration purposes only:

- the day and time you visited the site
- the pages you visited on our site
- the address of the last page you visited
- the operating system you are using
- rough geographic location (down to the city)
- language (e.g. American English)
- internet service provider (e.g. Telstra)
- the type of browser and version you are using

None of the information collected includes or is linked to identifying or personal information such as name, address, email addresses. Google utilises the data collected to track and examine the use of our website, to prepare reports on its activities. Google may use the data collected to contextualise and personalise the ads of its own advertising network. You can read more about Google's Privacy Policy here.

Aquinas College will not make an attempt to identify users or their browsing activities. However, in the unlikely event of an investigation, a law enforcement agency or other government agency may exercise its legal authority to inspect our website visitation logs.

Secured areas

Members of the Aquinas College community (parents, students and staff) are able to log into secured areas of the Aquinas College website. These secure areas, as well as the handling of personal information within the College itself, are covered by the College's Privacy Policy and Collection Notices. Please follow the download links below for more information.
